OVERRIDING THE VETO.

THE ROUSE PASSES THE HOOVER PENSION BILL.

Only 47 Votes Cast to Sustain the President's Objections-The Bebats Interrupted by Another Veto Message. WASHINGTON, May 21 .- By a vote of 198 to 47 the House to-day passed over the President's veto the bill granting a pension of $30 a month to Francis E. Hoover, late of the Twenty-third Indiana Regiment. The debate of two hours which preceded the vote was interrupted to receive a message from the President vetoing another bill to pension Rachel Patton, as the widow of John H. Patton. The circumstances were similar to those surrounding the case of Lydia Taft, vetoed yesterday.

All the Populists and Republicans generally roted to pass the Hoover bill over the veto and the Democrats against it. The following Republicans, however, voted to sustain the veto: Messre. Loud (Cal.), Raney (Me.), Quigg and Wadsworth (N. Y.), and the following Democrats voted to pass the bill: Messrs, Cockreil (Tenn.), Cummings (N. Y.), Layton and Sorg (O.), and Stokes, Strait, and Taihert (S. C.).

This was preceded by a half hour's statement by Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., O.), regarding a telegram from Washington to the Cincinnati Trib me, which "lined him up with the Reed men ' in voting to oppose the reporting of any reciprocity from the Committee on Ways and Means. Passing by the "lining up with the Reed men," by the observation that he might be found in worse company. Mr. Gresvenor denied the report that there were any factions among the Republicans on the Committee on Ways and Means, asserting that they had acted as a unit upon all matters.

Consideration was begun of the Phillips Labor Commission bill, under the special order agreed to yesterday, and its passage was advocated by Messrs, Phillips (Rep., Ps.) and Low (Rep., N.
Y.). The time for its discussion was extended until 4 o clock to-morrow.

A resolution was agreed to directing the printing of 10,000 copies of the Immigration bill

NO DIAMOND SHOAL LIGHTHOUSE. Congress Authorizes the Construction of a

Lightship at that Point. WASHINGTON, May 21.-The Diamond Shoal lighthouse question, that has been before the engineer experts in some shape for a number of years, has at last been finally settled. Congreshas turned back in the Treasury the original appropriation of $250,000 made to begin work on the structure, and authorized an expendi-ture of $90,000 to construct a light vessel which the authorities have decided to locate off Hatteras. The engineer officers will be sorely disappointed at the action of Congress, for they believed that a lighthouse was entirely feasible and were willing to expend $1,000,000 in carrying out their plans. The Lighthouse Board, which had the subject under advisement, was of the opinion that a lighthouse should be put there, but one member has all along contended that a light vessel was just as practicable and could be placed there at one-tenth the cost. Admiral Walker, the President of the Board and the army representatives have advocated the light structure on the ground that no light and the army representatives have advocated the light structure on the ground that no light vessel built could stand long the pounding it would be subjected to on Diamond Shoal. They believe it might be possible to anchor a ship there for a few months, but that this means of lighting the shoal could not be depended upon, and in a fierce hurricane, such as prevails in that locality frequently, a vessel would break from her anchorage and drift out to sea.

This argument has been met by assertions from other officers that no place on the seaboard is more rough and the anchorage more uncertain than the south shoal, thirty miles in the open ocean, south of Nantucket, a place where naval officers say the waters roll terrifically on account of their shallowness and where it blows just as hard and often as it does off Hatteras.

The provision for the lightship means that Diamond Shoal will have a light within one year, as contracts will be asked for immediately for the construction of the most formidable light vessel yet undertaken. The new ship will be larger and have more powerful machinery than any along the soast. Her machinery will enable her to look after herself in heavy weather, when it might be necessary to cast loose her anchors, or should she break away. The steam siren will have a diameter of twelve inches and capable of a whistic that can be heard twenty miles under favorable conditions. Two pole posts will display great lanterns, probably thirty feet above the ship's deck, and distinguishable at night fifteen miles.

The Sundry Civil bill also includes provision for a light vessel for Fire Island to mark the outer edge of the seven-mile limit which steamers take in proceeding to New York from the sast. Another provision in the bill is for a powerful light vessel to mark the entrance to San Francisco. This ship will be placed far out in the Paidic and will be one of the first lights picked up by vessels coming from China and Hawaii.

CONFERENCE REPORTS IN ORDER. The Senate Clears Of the Calendar of Appropriation Bills, WASHINGTON, May 21.—In some respects the gestive of the closing days of a session. Conference reports were being considered and cted on during most of the day. First came the River and Harbor bill, and, after a short liscussion, the report was formally disagreed to, in order to have an item as to Brunswick harbor, Ga., restored to the bill. Later in the day the report was again presented, with the Brunswick matter arranged satisfactorily, but with the items as to the deep sea harbor in southern California still undisposed of in conference. The report was agreed to as far as it went, and a new conference was ordered on the San Pedro and Santa Monica question.

The conference report on the Legislative bill was presented, and was assailed on account of provisions as to Circuit Court clerks and as to the appointment of a register of copyrights. the appointment of a register of copyrights.
The report was disagreed to, 20 to 33, and the bill was again sent to conference.

A partial conference report on the Indian Appropriation bill was agreed to, and a further conference ordered, and subsequently a second report was presented and went over till to-morreport was presented and went over till to-morrow.

The conference report on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill was then taken up, and Mr.
Illi (Dem., N. Y.) inquired as to the Senate amendment providing for changes in the New York Post Office building. Mr. Allison (Rep.
Ia.) in charge of the report said that was still in disagreement. The report was agreed to.
The calendar of appropriation bills having thus been cleared off, Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.), thought that the opportune time had come for getting before the Senate his bill prohibiting the issue of Government bends without the consent of Congress, and he made a motion to proceed to its consideration. Immediately Senator Hill (Dem., N. Y.) and Chandler (Rep., N. H.)
commenced a series of obstructive measures, by which they were successful in preventing a vote on Mr. Butler's motion. The strength of its support, however, was indicated by the vote on Mr. Chandler's motion to proceed to the consideration of executive business, which was yeas 12, nays 34, and all subsequent votes preserved that relation.
During the fillbustering, proceedings Mr. Hill yeas 12, hays 34, and an extended that relation.

During the flibustering proceedings Mr. Hill and Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) interchanged remarks not entirely consistent with Senatorial courtesy. The obstructive tactics prevailed to the extent of foreing an adjournment without a vote on Mr. Butler's motion to take up the bill.

THE HOLT WILL CONTEST.

Horatto King Pronounces the Body and Signature of the Will a Forgery. WASHINGTON, May 21,-In the Holt will ase to-day, former Postmaster General Horatio King, who was an intimate friend of Judge Advocate-General Holt, declared not only the body and the signature of the will "a gross, bungling fraud," but volunteered the opinion to the jury, against the objections of counsel on both sides of the litigation, that the signatures of President Grant and Gen. Sherman and his wife as witnesses were also spurious. Gen. King had in his possession more than twenty letters from Judge Holt, and he said he had carefully compared these in detall with the document offersd for probate, He pointed out fifteen place in the brisf document where Judge Holt would naturally, with his habits of preciseness, have placed commas, and five others where he would have put periods.

and five others where he would have put periods.

Col. Thomas S. Barr, Assistant Judge Advocate-General, now stationed at Governor's Island, N. Y., also testified that in his opinion the paper was neither written nor signed by Judge Holt, and that, having been assistant to Jude Holt when it was alleged to have been executed, he was confident that neither President Grant nor Gen. Sherman would have been asked to witness it, nor would have consented to do so if asked.

SENATOR BLACKBURN'S BADGE.

It Bore the Likeness of Gen, Lee and Was Thought to Be a New Allison Button.

WASHINGTON, May 21. Senator "Joe" Blackbadge that bore the head of a gentleman with bundant hair and a full beard, surrounded by a halo of thirteen stars. Everybody took it to who were sufficiently familiar with the Senator from Kentucky took hold of his coat collar to from Kentucky took hold of his coat collar to examine it more closely. Senator Allison did so. He gave one look at the face on the badge, then he put on his spectacles and examined it more closely.

"It's an Allison badge for sure," insisted a Senator who stood by.
"It looks very much like it," responded the candidate from lowa, and turning to Biackburn he added: "Joe, I always did admire yourtaste, You are a man of rare judgment and wise discretion."

"Thank you, Brother Allison," was the Ken-tuckian's reply. "I appreciate the compliment, but you will forgive me if I tell you that the face on that button was intended for Robert E. Lee, The stars around it represent the Confederate States of America, and it is the badge of the Confederate veterans of the State of Kentucky."

The Free Alcohol Repeal Bill to Be Passed, WASHINGTON, May 21.-The compromise reached yesterday on the free alcohol repeal question removes another obstacle from the programme of an early adjournment. The House will pass the bill on Saturday, with the amendment providing for the appointment of a amendment providing for the appointment of a joint committee to report to the next session by bill for free alcohol for use in the arts and sciences, together with the necessary law to carry it into effect, if, after investigation, they believe this should be done. The Repeal bill will be taken to the Senate at once, and will probably be called up in the Senate and passed on Monday. Senator Platt and others who have been antagonizing repeal are satisfied with the compromise.

EX-GOV. BUSSELL AS REFEREE. He Gives a Decision in the Matter of Re-bates in Life Insurance, BOSTON, May 21 .- Ex-Gov. W. E. Russell, as referee of the life insurance companies in their compact for the suppression of rebating, handed down a decision to-day. It affects the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and is of Life Insurance Company of New York and is of importance because the last decision given by the referee was against this company and necessitated a conference of the companies to keep the compact together. The relates decides that E. A. Grant, Jr., representing the Mutual Life Insurance Company at Louisville, has been guilty of giving a retate to one C. P. Copeland on two policies. The complaint against Grant was made by W. R. Noble, a representative of the New York Life leaurance Company. Under the agreement the Mutual Life will be called upon to discharge Mr. Grant and no other company may employ him for one year.

SLUMP OF LEXOW CASES.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST THREE PO-

With Others Against Policemen of Lower Rank - A Few Cases to Be Disposed Of - With Eighty Odd Indictments, Two Convictions and One ex-Official in Prison.

District Attorney Fellows disposed in less than half an hour yesterday of nearly all the remaining indictments found against police Mclals upon the illegal and incompetent evidence adduced at the Lexow committee investigation by John W. Goff. The indictments were dismissed by Justice Keegh, sitting in the criminal part of the Supreme Court, Court was opened at 8% o'clock—a Westchester cusom introduced by Justice Keogh. The lawyers were the only persons present besides a ew reporters. Selecting a bunch of papers out of a pile which a clerk laid on his desk, Cel.

"May it please the Court, in the case of Poice Captain Jacob Siebert, indicted for bribery, I wish to state that the people have no vidence which would warrant a trial. When the indictment was found a good prima facie case of bribery was made out against the Captain on the evidence of one Augustus W. Barney, a West street saloon keeper. Since that time, however, Barney has made an affidavit, which I have here, in which he says he never met or knew Cart, Siebert, and when he appeared before the Grand Jury thought he was testifying against Capt, Stephenson, I move that the indictment be dismissed.

Justice Keogh granted the motion and endorsed the indictment accordingly. Selecting another bunch of papers the Colonel said there were ten indictments for bribery against Edward Glennon, former ward man for Capt. Cross. He was halicted on the evidence of one Rhoda Sanford, who alleged that she had paid Glennon $50 a month for police protection. Col. Fellows said that Capt. Cross had been tried on the same complaint before the Police Board and dismissed from the force. The General Term, however, had declared that the woman uncorroborated was unworthy of belief, and had reinstated the Captain. The evidence against Glennon was of the same character, and therefore, the Colonel said, the indictments should be dismissed. They were.

In Capt. Schmittberger's case, the Colonel said, he was oblized to ask for a dismissal of the indictment for bribery because of the promise of immunity which was given by the Lexow committee and concurred in by the District Attorney in consideration of Schmittberger's testimony against certain other members of the force. Schmittberger was indicted for taking money from Agent Forget of the French steamship line for affording extra police protection. The indictment was dismissed. man for Capt, Cross. He was indicted on the missed.

Then followed three indictments for neglect of duty against ex-Police Captain William S. Devery which were filed before the Lexow committee convened on compilant of the Parkhurst society. They allege that he had failed to supinittee convened on complaint of the Parkhurst society. They allege that he had falled to suppress disorderly houses in his precinct. He was tried on one of these indistances and acquitted. As the other indistances were for the same offence the Colonel said it would be useless to bring them to trial. These were dismissed.

Two indictments for bribery against Policeman Augustus T. Thorne, who was a witness awainst Police Cantains. Stephenson and Schmittberger before the Lexow committee, were dismissed in accordance with an agreement of immunity. He testified against Capt. Stephenson, who was convicted of receiving a 50 barrel of apples from M. N. Edwards and whose case is now before the Court of Appeals. An indictment for bribery against ex-Ward Man Henry W. Schill was dismissed for lack of corroborative evidence, but there is another against him for perjury for testifying before the Oyer and Terminor Grand Jury that he had no knowledge of the sale of a disorderly house on West Fortieth street by one "Mollie" Kipley, whereas, it is alleged, he was a party to the transaction.

This concluded the housecleaning of the house on West Fortieth street by one "Molle" kipley, whereas, it is alleged, he was a party to the transaction.

This concluded the house-leaning of the District Attorney. He added, however, that there were indictments for attempted extortion against Patrolmen Hugh Cassady, John Thrail, and Edward Miles, accused by exsurveyor Hans S. Beattle; for bribery against ex-Ward Man Samuel Campbell, and another for bribery against Thomas J. Brady, ex-Superintendent of Buildings. He said he wished to make a further examination of witnesses before disposing of these, and they were transferred to the General Sessions. He said it was probable that one of these cases would be brought to trial, and that this would wind up the police prosecutions.

The Colonel then thanked Special Frosecutors Rollins and Fox and their associate, Mr. Perkins, and Mr. Fox responded in like terms. Then Justice Keepl adjourned court. The lawyers for the officials still under indictment say they will move for the dismissal of their indictments in the General Sessions in a few days.

As a result of all the cases which grew out the town.

sai of their indictments in the General Sessions in a few days.

As a result of all the cases which grew out of the Lexow committee's sessions, but one official is now serving time. This is Ex-Police Captain Edward B. Carpenter, who pleaded guilty and was fined $1,500 and sent to the pentientiary for three months. Of all those tried, only two, Inspector McLaughlin and Captain Stephenson, were convicted. Their cases have not yet been acted on by the Court of Appeals. Captains Devery, Killifea, and Doherty were acquitted, and ex-Ward Man Levy also was acquitted. There were eighty odd of the indictments.

MONUMENT TO FAITHFUL SLAVES. Shaft Erected in South Carolina In Honor of the Negroes in War Time.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 21.-There was unveiled to-day at Fort Mill, S. C., a monument erected in honor of the faithful slaves of the South during the war, by an ex-slaveowner and an ex-Confederate soldier. It was the first public recognition of the gratitude that the people of the South feel toward the negroes who, while their masters were away on the fields of Virginia and the West, acted as the protectors of the women and children on the plantations. So loyal were they to the trust that there are few instances of a violation of it. Capt. S. E. White of Fort Mill, a wealthy planter and millowner, suggested the idea of srecting this tribute to the former slaves, and erecting this tribute to the former slaves, and as a result the monument, a handsome marble shaft, was raised on the brow of a hill on the main street of the village. It bears the following inscription on the front:

"1860—Dedicated to the faithful slaves who, loyal to a sacred trust, tolled for the support of the army with matchless devotion, and with sterling fidelity guarded our defenceless homes, women, and children during the struggle for America—1805."

On the rearres side is this:

the principles of our Confederate States of America—1805."
On the reverse side is this:
"1805. Erected by Samuel E. White in grateful memory of earlier days, with the approval of the Jefferson Davis Memorial Association. Among the many faithful: Nelson White, Sandy White, Warren White, Slias White, Handy White, Anthony White, Jim White, Handy White, Anthony White, Jim White, Henry White, Nathan Springs, Solomon Sprat."
On the sides not occupied by inscriptions are the fligures of a negro woman holding in her arms a white child and a negro man seated on a log in a wheat field with a scythe restling on his knee. The cords which removed the vell from the monument were drawn by four gray-haired ex-slaves, who were, as were those whose names are inscribed on the monument, formerly the slaves of Capt. White. The oration of the day was delivered by Folk Miller of Virginia. There were a large number of ex-slaves and their descendants in the audience.

LOOK OUT FOR THIS PILLAR. Banger Lurks in It for Palton Ferry Pas-

The elevated railroad pillar in front of 5 Fulton street, Brooklyn, has been the cause of several accidents recently, the victims being passengers who were getting on or off the troipassengers who were getting on or our the froi-ley cars. The pillar is so close to the trolley tracks that persons who attempt to board the cars or alight from them when in motion at this point are in imminent peril of bumping their heads against it. One day lost week three persons were severely injured in this way, and last night Jacob Jacobs, 32 years old, of New Lots road and Christopher street, received a contusion on the arm by bumping against the pillar.

BROOKLYN BRIDGE PLAZA. Can the Elevated Railway Pillura Be Re-

movedt It is thought that the recent decision of Jusice Clement of the Supreme Court, forbidding the conversion of the bridge plaza in Brooklyn the conversion of the bridge plaza in Brocklyn to the use of the trolley companies, may result in the removal of the elevated railroad piliars from it. Justice Clement held that the trustees had no right to allow any obstructions on the plaza. Should his decision be sustained, a suit will probably be begun to compet the removal of the piliars. The trolley companies say that there should not be any discrimination against them.

The George W. Whitford Released. The schooner George W. Whitford, owned by eapold Schepp, has been released from detention at Colon, and is now on her way to this port. Her release was due to the action of Secretary of State Olney, who, through the United States Minister at Hogots, demanded the vessel's liberation and an immediate investigation of the circumstances of the case.

BURGLARS IN EAST BROADWAY

After Being Seared Out of One House by a Bog They Rob the One Adjoining.

Thieves entered the house of Mrs. Marie Haran and the flat of Rudolph Marks at 249 and 251 East Broadway some time after midnight yesterday morning. Mrs. Haran, who owns the house she lives in, is a widow with two daughters. She is reputed to be wealthy.

Directly back of the Haran bouse is a tenement which fronts on Henry street. Next door to the Harans on the north is an apartment house. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Marks occupy the north flat on the first floor. In the rear of the flat is a fire escape that leads to a court. A board fence eight feet high separates the court of the Haran house from the court of the Henry street tenement, and another board fence separates the Haran court from the court of the apartment house.

From the fact that a stepladder belonging to the lanker of the tenement was found in the Haran yard, it is supposed that the burglars came from or through the tenement. They en-

Haran yard, it is supposed that the burglars came from or through the tenement. They entered the Haran house through a window leading to the parlor. In the parlor they found a lace cape, a feather boa, and a pair of operaglasses. They took these and started to go through the upper part of the house. As they stepped into the hall from the parlor Mrs. Haran's scotch collie, which was lying on a rug at the nead of the front hall stairs, barked. Mrs. Haran above to the deg and quieted him. The burglars went back into the parlor, closing insdoor as they wont. Then, with some clothesine which they found in the yard, they tied the knob of the door to the piano leg. Then they left the house.

Using the ladder to got over the fence into the court of the apartment house, they went up the fire escape and entered the kitchen window of Marka's flat. Going through the kitchen, the thieves entered Mr. and Mrs. Marks's bedroom. They rifled the trousers pockets of Marks of $15. Mrs. Marks's diamond-studied gold watch was in a jewel case at the foot of the bad, and they took that. A silver-mounted meerschaum cigar holder was on the mantel, and, needing this in their business, the thieves took it alony. Then they got out. They took particular pains to wind another place of clothesline about the fire escape, presumably to trip any one who might pursue them. They carried a four-pound Indian club belonging to Marks as far as the court and dropped it.

Marks discovered that burg ars had visited his flat when he arose about 6 o clock yesterday morning. An hour later the burglars' visit was discovered in the Haran house. The burglaries were reported to the Markbon street station and to l'ollee Headquarters. No clue to the burglars has yet been discovered. Mrs. Haran has bought a silver-mounted collar for her colle and braided his tail with biue ribbons.

HIS WIFE CLAMORS FOR SUPPORT. An Illeansorted Couple Were Married Secretly and Live Apart.

Thomas J. Keyes of Clifton, Staten Island, was arrested yesterday on his wife's complaint, the charge being abandonment and non-support. Keyes and Julia Bruckhauser, daughter of Philip Bruckhauser, were married in this city on Oct. 28, 1895. Keyes is 53 years old, while the bride is but 23. After the marriage the bride and bridegroom pledged themselves to secrecy and returned to their respective homes on Staten Island. Keyes, it is alleged, gave as a reason for requesting secrecy that his children would raise a disturbance if the truth became known, and to avoid the possibility of revealing their identity the couple were married under netitious names. Keyes, it is asserted, represented himself as Thomas Openshaw, and Miss Bruckhauser gave the name of Julia Montague. The Rev. Francis H. Smith of the Seventh Street M. E. Church performed the ceremony. For several months the bride kept the secret, but finally took her sister. Mrs. William Stratton of Tompkinsville, into her confidence, and the sister informed their father, a saloon keeper at Clifton. LEXINGTON, Ky., May 21.—The Board of Trustees of Sayre Female Institute have declined to accept the resignation of its principal, Major H. B. McClellan, tendered by him tendays Major H. B. McCiellan, tendered by him ten days ago. The institute will probably be opened as usual in September next. The report that the Breckinridge-Foliard scandal caused the present difficulty of the institute was evidently without foundation. Major McCiellan was not a sympathizer with Breckinridge, but voted against him. No member of the Board of Trustees was a supporter of Col. Breckinridge.

BRIDGEPORT, May 21.-Papers in a suit for $350,000 damages were served this morning on the Stamford Trust Company, instituted by Timothy Porter, the millionaire of that place, whose troubles with his relatives have attracted much attention in the last year. Mr. Porter says that on Feb. 21, 1894, he was arrested and compelied to transfer certain bonds and securities, amounting in value to $350,000, to the defendant company, and that subsequently he was compelled to deliver to the defendants these bonds and securities. The defendant company still holds them.

Ratny weather prevailed in the galddle Atlantic and New England States yesterday. The rainfall was enough to break the drought. The rain was due to an area of high pressure which passed to the north Atlantic, throwing off northeasterly winds and keeping the temperature below normal. There was but slight change in temperature, except that it was becoming warmer in the central States, because a storm was forming to the north of Minne

NEW YORK YACHTSMEN MEET. The Club's Cruise to Start from Gien Cove on Aug. 8.

There was a small attendance of yachtemen it the New York Yacht Club's house, 67 Mad-Ison avenue, last evening, on the occasion of the club's third general meeting. Commodor E. M. Brown presided, while J. V. S. Oddie acted as secretary. Outside of the reading o a number of letters little business of importance

The following amendment to the club's racing ules was passed and will come up for final action at the next meeting of the club:

Amend rule 1, section 8, as follows: Class IV .- Not over 50 and over 51 feet racing length. Class V.—Not over 51 and over 43 feet racing length. Class VI.—Not wer 43 and over 36 feet racing length. Class VII,-Not over 36 feat racing length.

Another resolution amending chapter 4 of the by-laws, which was brought up for final consideration, was laid over until the next meeting. It follows:

Add at the end of first paragraph:
"Yachts complying with the foregoing conditions, except as to capacity, but having a capacity of less than fifteen ions and not less than ten tons, ascretained and certified, as berein provided, shall be entitled to representation for all purposes except voting at meetings."

Many of the younger element think that the owners of these smaller yachts should be allowed to you at the meeting, while the "old saits," who still control the club, say that they should be satisfied to carry the club's flag without having the privilege of yoting. Maitland Kersey's resignation was accepted without comment.

for electing them honorary members of the organization.

Dunrawen's charges of fraud, thanking the club for electing them honorary members of the organization.

George J. Gould, the Commodore of the Atlantic Yacht Club, also sent a letter to Secretary Oddis, thanking him for the cup recently presonted him by the club in recognition of the Vigilant's service last fall. In his letter of thanks Mr. Gould said:

"I greatly appreciate the action of the New York Yacht Club in sending me this handsome trophy to commemorate the services of the Vigilant last fall. I shall be very proud of it, and I wish to thank the members of the club and to assure them that my best wishes are for its continued prosperity and the advancement of its interests. Any time I can lend my services to that end they are at the disposal of the club, and also the use of any yachts in which I may be interested."

The club fleet will rendezvous at Glen Cove, L. I., on Monday, Aug. 3, for their annual cruise, Rear Admiral Henry Erben presented a model of the old frigate l'otomac to the club, which was accepted with thanks. The following were elected members:

George Chesterman, Maximilian Agassiz, Francis A. Watson, Henry R. C. Watson, Henry Waiters, Lieut, A. G. Winterialter, U. S. N. Frankin A. Pinner, Charles M. Frant, Penbrokov Jones, Nicholas Fish.

BILLIARDS.

Result of the Play in the Chicago Tourns-

CHICAGO, May 21.-Frank C. Ives won last night's game from Jacob Schaefer in the handl-cap eighteen-inch balk-line billiard tournament The game attracted only a moderate-sized andi ence to Central Music Hall, but those who endured the close atmosphere of the hall were re warded by seeing a very pretty exhibition of the difficult game by both experts. Each made creditable runs.

The rules of the game compelled much open table play, and, though there was no exhibition of fast billiards, both men were in fine form. It was anybody's game most of the time. Each would gain upon and pass the other at intervals, receiving a round of applause for his achievement. In the twenty-first inning Schaefer, who was forty-three points behind Ives, made exactly that number of billiards, tying the score and eliciting onthusiastic cheers from his friends. He elipped up on the next shot. lives made two and "Jake" made four, but his slight lead was quickly overcome, for lives rat-tied out forty-six in the next inning. Schaefer sixteen in the twenty-fourth were all extremely difficult masses, straight banks, and long draws. Though not alarge run, it was the best of the

Though not a large run, it was the best of the game.

I was followed with focty-two, all carefully studied and well-executed shots. The best that Jake could do was to pick up eighteen, and I wes, who needed but six points, finished the game. The final score was: I ves, 500: Schaefer, 439. Highestruns I ves, 75: Schaefer, 83. Averages—I ves, 19 6-20: Schaefer, 83. Averages—I ves, 10 6-20: Schaefer, 83. Averages—I ves a discouragingly small attendance at to-night's contest between I ves and Garnier was chief the cause of the lack of interest in the game, which was won by Garnier in the twenty-fifth inning. The Frenchman was to make 300 against I ves $500. The latter looked like a probable winner, but he weakened, and the Frenchman defeated him for the second time this week. Garnier won the bank and chose the black ball. He missed, and the 'Young Napoleon' sailed in and made the highest run of the tourney thus far by the most brilliant kind of playing.

the tourney thus far by the most brilliant kind of playing.

Garnier showed up in excellent form, though he made no large runs, his best effort being forty-nine. In the twenteth inning he had the balls well in hand tor a run, but fell down in the forty-fifth shot in alternating a cushion draw. Ives made fifty-four pretty shots in his twenty-third inning, and it looked as though he might run the game out. He missed a difficult hank twice across the table. Garnier, with fourteen to go, made thirteen, but on the last shot the balls were in balk and did not count. Ives was able to make only seven points, and Garnier finished the game with ease.

The final score was: Garnier, 300; Ives, 477. High runs, Garnier, 40; Ives, 113. Averages, Garnier, 12; Ives, 1921-24.

Schaefer and Garnier will play to-morrow night.

Once fixed, a golf tournament must be played out regardless of the weather, so yesterday's steady downpour did not check the sport in the Knoliwood Country Club competiti drizzle drove the speciators from the links, however, but they were content, in most cases, to catch fleeting glimpses of the players from the verands or windows of the coser club house. There was no wind to bother the drivers, and the golfing was up to the sunny-weather standard; better, in fact, for new records were made. The only bad effect of the rain was to make the putting greens slow. Every blade of grass and clover leaf stiffened up under the welcome moisture, retarding the ball in putting and making the plays for the holes uncertain in re-

Fenn, the Palmetto Club golfer, carried off the first honors of the day by defeating, in turn, Livermore and Lynch, two of the best amateurs in the North. Toler, the Baltusrol man, made nearly as fine a showing as Fenn, and the meeting of the two in the final round this afternoon promises to be a brilliant match.

The second round started at 10:30 o'clock. The summary:

A. H. Fenn, Palmetto Golf Club. beat Arthur L. Livermore, St. Andrew's, by 2 up and 1 to play. Jasper Lynch, Lakewood Golf Club, beat L. E. Van Etten by default. Henry P. Toler, Haltusrol Golf Club, beat F. Gibert Thebaud, Knollwood Country Club, by 8 up and 7 to play. W. H. Sands. St. Andrew's Golf Club, beat J. M. Knapp, Westprooks Golf Club, by 2 up

Only two games were actually played in the second round in the morning, as Lynch secured Wednesday. The first pair out were Toler and Thebaud. The Knollwood golfer was in good form, although he could not hold the Raituarol expert, who, as all the bye holes were played out, turned in the capital card of 94 strokes. The score follows:

"Approximated.

Toler had an easy task with Sands, who was decidedly below his form. On the greenhouse hole, for instance, he drove on the green, yet only halved the hole in five. Toler's tenth hole in three was clever, and, if he had been pushed, his score by strokes might have equalled Fenn's. For the thirteen holes played the strokes were:

H. P. Toler— H. P. Toler -

W. H. Sands-P. G. Thebaud will be referee in the final cound to-day. The start will be at 2:30 o'clock. The summary:

Semi-final Round-Fenn beat Lynch, 5 up and 4 to play. Toler beat Sands, 6 up and 5 to play.

Park Commissioner Woodroff Will Lead the Cycling Parade at Brooklyn. The Parade Committee of the Brooklyn Good Roads Association has selected Park Commissioner Timothy L. Woodruff to act as Grand Marshal upon the occasion of the opening of the new cycle path on June 27. There will be three divisions in line. The Brooklyn clubs will form the first division, the visiting clubs following, and the unattached wheelmen bringing up the tion not members of clubs will lead the third division. It has been decided that no decorated wheels will be atlowed in line. No special provision is made for a women's division, and they will be permitted to parade where they choose The route will be as follows: Start at Easter Parkway and Bedford avenue, then down East ern Parkway to Prospect Park, through the west drive to the new cycle path, and down the path to Coney Island. Invitations will be extended to all clubs within fifty miles of this city to take part in the parade.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Cycle Board of Trade held on Wednesday eleven directors were present. The meeting was continued over until yesterday. A matter that called for considerable discussion. was the accounts submitted by the National Cycle Exhibition Company of Chicago of the show at Tattersall's last January. It was reported that a public accountant had found the books in a most unsatisfactory condition. A resolution was passed that the Board of Trade would insist upon a true, full, and complete disclosure as to who formed the "Windsor Construction Company," and also a true, full, and accurate account of the receipts and disbursements, and that the corporation would insist upon receiving the whole amount of its proportion of net profits.

It was reported that the organization of local Cycle Boards of Trade throughout the United States was progressing in a satisfactory manner, and it is anticipated that in a short while there will be local Hoards in every important cycling centre. It was also resolved to appropriate $1,000 to the League of American Wheelmen, to be applied in promoting the interests of cyclists in general. Entries for the Tournaments at Devon and Brookline.

Entries for the first polo tournaments of the season, at the Devon, Pa., Polo Club, near Philadelphia, and the Country Club of Brookline, near Boston, closed yesterday. The dates are the same, June 1 to 6, but thereafter the circuit of games will fall in regular succession, until the season ends at St. Louis in October. The Brookline tournament is held annually on the off days of the Country Club race meeting. At the annual meeting of the Polo Association in March the Brookline tournament was fixed for next week, and the other dates arranged accordingly. Afterward the Country Club racing dates were put back a week, and rather than rearrange the entire schedule of tournaments the Polo Association thought it best to let the Brookline and Devon men play in the same

Polo Association thought it best to let the Brookline and Devon men play in the same week.

The Brookline games will be for teams of four, under the regular handicaps, for the Brookline Cups, with Individual prizes added, The entries are the Myopia Polo Club, Dedham Polo Club, and the "Wanderers" of Meadow Brook. The Myopia Club will be represented by the champion four, R. L. Agassiz, Robert G. Shaw, F. B. Fay, and A. P. Gardner. The team will have a handicap of thirty goals. The Dedham team will be Allan Forbes, Edward M. Weld, C. H. W. Fuster, and Samuel D. Warren, with a handicap of sixteen goals. George P. Boston, May 21.-The third game of the chess match between Barry and Showalter was yesterday. It was Barry's turn to open the proceedings, which he did by means of P-K 4. Showalter again adopted the Russian Defence and selected a variation which Kemeny adopted in his match variation which Kemeny adopted in his match against the Kentuckian. Up to the ninth move of white the contest was identical with the Showalter-Kemeny game as played in Philadeiphia; then the former altered the tactics. The Kentuckian committed an error by not playing 13. . castles instead of the test move. Another grave error was 17... castles. Here P. K. Kt. 3 was the correct move. However, after losing the exchange, he made a good uphil fight, but could do nothing against the correct play of harry, and he had finally to resign after sixty-five moves. The game follows:

RACING IN BRITISH WATERS.

Satautta Beats a Field of Large Raters and The Saint Downs Ningara. LONDON, May 21. - The British yacht racing season opened at Gravesend this morning with the contests of the New Thames Yacht Club. The weather was clear and a stiff northerly wind prevailed. The Britannia, Allsa, Satanila, Hester, Isolde, Caress, and Corsa'r started in the principal race. The course was from the Lower Hope around the Mouse Light vessel Lower Hope around the Mouse Light vessel and return to Gravesend, fifty miles. In the race for second-class yachts, the Ningara was strongly opposed by the new beats. The Saint and the Penitent. The course for these boats was the same as that for the larger, except that they rounded the Weet Oaze husy instead of the Mouse Light vessel, making a course of forty-five miles.

The weather conditions at the start gave every prospect of a plain sail over the entire course and a quick race. The Satania won in the large rater class, the Britannia being second, and the Alass third. The race for the small raters was won by Mr. Frank Jameson's The Saint. Howard Gould's Niagara was second.

A representative of the United Press tele-graphs from Gravesend that in the race to-day the Satanita, without any brige and with nearly two tons less keel than she had in the Mediter-ranean, made common barges of the Britannia ranean, made common barges of the Britannia and the Alisa in the reach over the fifty mile course. Though the Satanlia is ten feet longer than the Britannia by the British new rule, both boats are virtually weighted the same.

The Satanlia was sailed poorly on the side, but she won like a torpedo catcher. The Alisa had her mainsait reefed, but the others carried full sail, and all had libheaded topsalls hoisted. In the free reach of twenty miles the ratanlia beat the Britannia and the Alisa nearly its minute, and in going before the wind coming back she doubted her cast.

The Nangara's affected depth has lessened her stability. She got a poor start and Lad to recreas the line, yet she led at the half distance.
